THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

[From the Montgomery Advertiser of the 2nd.]

GEN. POPE ASSUMES COMMAND.

We publish below the order of General Pope assuming command of the third military district composed of the States of Georgia, Alabama and Florida. Civil officers are retained and the existing State government are not interfered with. We feel that we can safely say that our people, both private citizens and officers, will strive, by a conscientious performance of all duties devolving upon them, to promote the public peace and to avoid collisions with the military powers. The chief aim of the Government seems to be to restore the States to the Union under the terms of the Sherman law, and we presume steps will soon be taken to that end.

HEAD'QRS THIRD MILITARY DISTRICT, MONTGOMERY, ALA., April 1st, 1867.

Orders No. 1.

In compliance with General Orders No. 13, dated Headquarters of the Army, March 15th, 1867, the undersigned assumes command of the Third Military District, which comprises the States of Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

The Districts of Georgia and Alabama will remain as at present constituted and with their present commanders, except that the headquarters of the District of Georgia will be forthwith removed to Milledgeville.

The District of Key West is hereby merged into the District of Florida, which will be commanded by Col. John T. Sprague, 7th U. S. Infantry.

The headquarters of the District of Florida are removed to Tallahassee, to which place the District Commander will transfer his quarters without delay.

II. The civil officers at present in office in Georgia, Florida and Alabama will retain their offices until the expiration of their terms of service, unless otherwise directed in special cases, so long as justice is impartially and faithfully administered. It is hoped that no necessity may arise for the interposition of the military authorities in the civil administration; and such necessity can only arise from the failure of the civil tribunals to protect the people, without distinction, in their rights of person and property.

III. It is to be clearly understood, however, that the civil officers thus retained in office shall confine themselves strictly to the performance of their official duties; and whilst holding their offices, they shall not use any influence whatever to deter or dissuade the people from taking an active part in reconstructing their State governments under the act of Congress to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, and the act supplementary thereto.

IV. No elections will be held in this Military District, except such as are provided for in the act of Congress, and in the manner therein established; but all vacancies in civil offices which now exist, or which may occur by expiration of the terms of office of the present incumbent, before the prescribed registration of voters is completed, will be filled by appointment of the General commanding the district. JOHN POPE,

Maj. Gen. Comd'g.

A correspondent of a Northern Republican paper, writing from Charleston, says:

"It is very clear to any one who has watched the political current in this quarter of late, that the colored men will not vote as a unit. There is quite a large number of them who were free before the war, and who hold themselves partially aloof from the rest.—These, to a man, announce their determination to stand by the old white residents in whatever action they may take. On the other hand, there is a more numerous party, composed chiefly of idlers from the plantations, who have found their way into the city, where they live from hand to mouth, who are convinced that their release from daily toil was accomplished by the Radical Party of the North, and who may therefore be relied upon to vote and act with the men who represent and are indorsed by that party. But the most numerous class of all is made up of sensible freedmen, who are now earning a living by honest labor, who are intelligent enough to think for themselves, and to act as they believe their own interests dictate. Perhaps if they followed their own impulse merely, they might imitate the example of their shiftless and improvident brethren from the country, and give their support to the Radical candidates. But it must be borne in mind that these men derive their subsistence almost entirely from white employers, and they will take heed how they put their livelihood in jeopardy, for the sake of what, to them, is now a mere political abstraction. In view of these facts I find that the shrewdest observers here are of opinion that either a majority of the blacks will be found supporting the whites at the polls, or that if this should not be the case, the freedmen's vote will be divided so as to become a matter of little comparative importance. If this be true in Charleston and along the sea coast, it is even more so in the interior, where the freedmen are less exposed to the influence of political agitators. The gatherings of negroes that have lately taken place to listen to harangues from orators, white and black, were rather tame affairs, having been gotten up in the interest of a few would be leaders of the colored population."

THE ARKANSAS RADICAL STATE CONVENTION.—LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 3.—The State Union Convention has been in session all day and evening. A platform, with resolutions, was adopted of an ultra radical character, approving the Congressional plan of reconstruction and readmission to the Union. Resolutions condemning the President, opposing confiscation and recommending a conciliatory course towards rebels, were tabled. A State Central Committee was appointed and instructed to establish State Union organizations. The committee to wait on General Ord reported that he heartily approved the object of the Convention, and was desirous of co-operating with them. The Convention will doubtless adjourn to-morrow.

Pending the Convention a large meeting of freedmen was held in the State House square. Several delegates and speakers addressed them. Great enthusiasm prevailed, and no disturbance was created.

A gentleman parting with a lazy servant woman was asked whether she was "afraid of work?" "Oh, not at all," said he, "she'll frequently lie down and fall asleep by it."

ACTION,—ACTION.

In a few weeks, from what we learn, Maj Gen. Sickles, commanding this District, will have completed his arrangements to register the qualified voters in North and South Carolina. It is presumable that he will not only announce the names of those appointed to register the qualified voters, and to hold the elections, but that he will also give explicit instructions to the registers and keepers of the polls, and to the people, and will cause these instructions to be extensively published, so that every one may act understandingly. We trust the General will particularly specify who are at liberty to vote and who are disfranchised, and who are eligible to seats in the State Convention to be called. We suggest this, because of the variety of opinions entertained upon this subject. The language of the act most capable of misconstruction is that which embraces "judicial and executive" officers. Generally, it is understood that Judges and Justices of the Peace are all included under the head of judicial officers; this opinion we think correct, yet others think that magistrates are not included. As to executive officers, considerable diversity of opinion exists. Are Sheriffs, Coroners, Solicitors, Clerks of Courts, U. S. Marshalls and Constables executive officers? Who are eligible to seats in the Convention? It is understood that the number of delegates to the Convention must equal the number of members in the House of Commons. If so, are they to have the same qualifications for a delegate that is required for a member of the House, besides those mentioned in the Reconstruction Act, or is it to be understood that every qualified voter is also eligible to a seat in the Convention? These various points have called forth different opinions, and we, therefore, suggest them.

Until these matters are definitely settled, it would seem to be premature to be calling the people from their employments to discuss the matters pertaining to reconstruction. Up to the present time, in this State, we hear of no discussions, no meetings for political purposes, except among those who endorse the action and the purposes of the Holdenite meeting in this place. The old demagogues and the new fledged partizans of this class are actively at work. They are busy, circulating documents, holding meetings and making speeches.

The friends of law and order, the conservative men of the State, ought to be at work. We take it for granted that North Carolina will reconstruct upon the Congressional platform. We are not aware that any one will attempt opposition to that platform.—So long as it is the law of the land, no one, we judge, will offer opposition to it.

It is believed that it is the purpose of the Holdenites, if possible, to give to North Carolina such a Constitution as Tennessee and Missouri have. Real Union men and Conservatives cannot consent to have the State Brownlowized. They are ready and willing to have the State reconstructed on a truly loyal basis. Leaders in "the rebellion," if there are any such not disfranchised, desire no leadership in this reconstruction; but no conservative man is willing that the Convention shall go beyond the positive demand of Congress in that direction. The Congressional platform, as we understand it, meets the views of the Congress. That Mr. Wilson, Mr. Sherman, and Mr. Fessenden, and the majority of the Republican party, are satisfied with, and it secures indemnity for the past and future. Why go beyond?

If all our people are satisfied with that then there need be no discord, no division or strife; but if the primary meetings in the State, held by the Holdenites, are the true exponents of what the so-called "loyalists" mean to insist upon as conditions of reconstruction, then we tell them the conservative men of the State will contest the ground with them.

Let the people, both white, and colored, be on the alert. The interests of the white and colored races are identical—the welfare of each depends upon their mutual efforts to help each other—to promote the harmony, the prosperity of both races. Let no divisions or strifes be encouraged among them. Congress has pledged to the colored race civil and political equality. No sensible colored man desires more than this.—Let them then rely upon the tried and trusted men of the country, and let the true men show the colored race that they are still worthy of their confidence.

We hope that the intelligent men of the State will take pains to instruct and counsel the people, both white and colored. Let us be honest, outspoken and deal plainly with them. Remember, the true men, the conservative men of the State, stand squarely upon the Congressional platform. We want no Brownlows, Hunnicutts, Hamiltons or Holdens to rule us. We want tried and trusted men, who will do what they say, and upon whom you can put your fingers when you want to find them.

Gov. Worth has been absent from the city for several days, on a visit to Gen. Sickles, at Charleston, by invitation of the General at his Headquarters. We learn that his visit has been very pleasant. Gov. Orr was with Gen. Sickles, we believe, at the same time.

The Semmes United States, chartered by the Emigration Company, sailed for Venezuela on Saturday, from Wilmington, having on board about emigrants.

WHAT THE HOLDENITES ARE DOING.—In this County they are holding meetings in every precinct. At Auburn, on last Saturday week, we learn, Mr. Jos. W. Holden, "a chip of the old block," but rather a youthful aspirant for public honors, addressed the colored people. A few whites were present, and we learn his effort did not make a very favorable impression.

We also learn that, on Saturday last, a meeting was held at Holly Springs. We understand that James H. Harris, colored, and J. W. Holden, Pauntleroy Taylor and W. R. Richardson went out to enlighten the people. Who spoke on the occasion, we have not learned, but we would admonish the three last named not to test their oratorical powers with James H. Harris. He is a colored man, but the three new-fledged orators will always come off with their "combs cut" along side of James. By the way, it is rumored that the three last named seriously contemplate becoming candidates for the State Convention. Goodness gracious! if that is not bringing Wake County out at the little end of the horn, we should like to know what will.

WE SEE, from the proceedings of a public meeting in Wilkes County, published in the Standard, that Col. Dewcese, of the United States army, who has been sent into Western North Carolina, by Col. Bomford, on a purely official mission, is perverting his duties and position by making Radical speeches. Col. Dewcese is the same person who boasted, in the late Holdenite meeting in this City, of his bumming operations in Arkansas, and "brought down the House" by the recital.

By the way, so far from military interposition having been employed to protect "persecuted Union men," as alleged by the Standard, in the Western part of the State, we had understood that Gen. Sickles had despatched a sufficient military force to prevent outrages by "Red Strings" in that quarter. We should be glad to hear from some of our friends in Wilkes in the premises.

WILMINGTON AND WELDON RAIL ROAD.

We copy the following letter of Col. Fremont, from the last Wilmington Dispatch, very cheerfully. Our cotemporary, the Dispatch, surprises us, when it speaks of our article as an "assault" upon the railroads.—We are too much interested in the success of all our railroads, and have too high a regard for those who operate them, to assail either. We discovered that the delay, in forwarding the corn designed for our suffering people, was exciting some concern and dissatisfaction, and that there was a disposition to censure the railroads, and we thought it necessary that the officers of the roads should have an opportunity of putting the blame, if there was any, where it belonged; and hence our allusion to the matter. We did not charge neglect upon the railroads. We were under the impression that the neglect was some where else, but we found others disposed to charge it upon the railroads. Hence we said, "the neglect of the agents or the railroads is criminal in this matter." We are, therefore, glad that Col. Fremont has vindicated the railroad.

We learn, from other sources, that the delay was somewhat attributable to the long continuance of bad weather, and the danger of spoiling the corn by exposure. We learn that Maj. Johnson, of this city, who has charge of transportation, as soon as he was made aware of the delay and necessities of the case, at once dispatched the last cargo. It is, therefore, probable that no one is to blame, under the circumstances. Our article has, therefore, had the good effect of correcting the various opinions entertained about the matter. But read Col. Fremont's letter:

WILMINGTON & WELDON R. R.,
TRANSPORTATION DEPARTMENT,
Wilmington, April 6, 1867.

EDITORS DISPATCH:

Gentlemen:—On my return from a recent absence, my attention was called to your issue of the 3d inst., wherein you republish an article from the Raleigh Sentinel on the "Destitution in North Carolina," in which severe censure is cast upon the "Wilmington and Weldon and the N. C. R. R. Companies" for delaying, for "two weeks," corn for the starving poor, that was to be delivered in Charlotte.

It is due to "the truth of History" as well as to the good name of this railway company, that the facts be stated, viz: That this corn was not detained here at our warehouses, unnecessarily, a day or an hour—it did not go into a warehouse at all, but was discharged from a lighter into our cars, and left immediately for Goldsboro'. It could have gone any previous day by a special train if called for by government agents.

Respectfully,
S. L. FREMONT,
Eng. and Supt.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Standard, writing from Montgomery County, praises Governor Wells, of Louisiana, for the manner in which he has taken hold of the work of reconstruction. Gen. Sheridan proposes, if he has the power, to remove Gov. Wells! How does Montgomery like that?

MR. SUTHERLIN'S ADDRESS.—We are indebted to the excellent author, Wm. T. Sutherlin, Esq., of Danville, Va., for a neat pamphlet copy of his able and eminently practical address before the Mechanic's Association of that place. Mr. S. is a man of mark. His fine practical sense points him out as one of the men for the times. If opportunity serves, we shall make extracts from the address.

A correspondent of the New York Herald writing from Richmond and giving an account of Senator Wilson's recent visit to that city, says that Mr. Wilson declined any participation in the late Hunnicutt meeting there.

The correspondent adds: "He could not stomach the idea of affiliating with the so-called 'loyalists' of the South, particularly those of the Hunnicut order." This conduct of the Senator accords with what we have heard as to his views concerning the same class of men in this State.

GENERAL SICKLES' ADDRESS

TO THE

CHARLESTON BOARD OF TRADE.

The following is the address delivered by Gen. D. E. Sickles at the dinner given by the Charleston Board of Trade on Tuesday evening last. It will be read with interest. Gen. Sickles said:

Mr. President and Gentlemen: I thank you for your kind expressions of confidence and commendation. The relation I bear to the people of the Carolinas, while temporarily charged with the supervision of their government, imparts additional interest and gratification to the honor conferred upon me on the present occasion by so many persons of consideration. I presume some of you may expect from me intimations as to my line of conduct. I shall not, I fear, gratify even a reasonable degree of curiosity on that subject. But at all events I may, without departing from the reserve imposed upon me by my official position, and its responsibilities and duties, tell you what I shall not do.

First, I shall not for a moment think of depriving myself of the able and efficient co-operation of my old friend Governor Orr. [Great cheering.] Nor shall I fail to avail myself of the aid and assistance of any other civil officer in South Carolina, who performs his duty as zealously and faithfully as I know Gov. Orr has endeavored to discharge his duty. [Cheers.]

Gentlemen, I am sure I can add, not only for myself, but for every officer of the army of the United States, serving under my command, that under no circumstances will we sanction any act of injustice, spoliation or wrong committed upon any citizen of North or South Carolina.

Gentlemen, I will offer you another assurance; you have my authority for the statement to capitalists, traders, to manufacturers—to all who desire to embark in your agricultural field of labor, and to all who wish to invest moneys in your securities and in your lands, that the military authorities will do nothing tending to impair the value of your possessions, or to increase the risks of those who have heretofore embarked in enterprises on your soil. Whatever we can do to strengthen confidence in your resources, and to promote the material prosperity of the Commonwealth, shall be done.

I concur heartily in the confident expectations which have been expressed as to your future. I am one of those who believe that there are few things impossible to Americans. I believe that the civil and political misfortunes, the disasters in trade and agriculture, the privations, hopes and discouragements you have suffered, and which would have crushed any people who had not extraordinary energies, perseverance and faith in the future, will all be conquered by the elasticity, vigor and fortitude characteristic of the American people. There is nothing in the history of South Carolina that suggests that you are an exception to these traits of our countrymen. It may not be unbecoming in me to say, although you would perhaps refrain from saying so yourselves, that, in the war which has just closed, the people of the South have shown such resources, and the ability to employ them, and such energy, and resolution and courage, as will, if wisely directed, surmount greater difficulties than any now before them.

I will go further, and venture a suggestion in reference to your line of action. Of course I shall not trespass upon the political arena; for as to that I am as much disqualified as his excellency the Governor, though not by a constitutional amendment. (Laughter.) I shall abstain, as I am required to do by the duties of my position, from any allusion to the political bearing of any matter which you have to consider.—With this reservation, let me say to you, gentlemen, in all candor, that one of the first duties you have to discharge to yourselves and to your fellow citizens, is to remove all distrust as to your purposes, feelings, and intentions in the future towards the colored race; this distrust is, in my judgment, the main obstacle to the cordial co-operation and good understanding of the two races.

The causes for the existing alienation should, perhaps, be looked for in the early history of your State and her former institutions. But these are considerations of the past. I do not see from my point of view any reason why the undoubted identity of interest that does exist, and must exist, between the white and colored races in South Carolina, shall not result in their pursuing in common all the ends of society and government, as heartily and successfully as if the old relation of master and slave had never existed. [Applause.] One method of reconciliation is so nearly allied with the discharge of my own duties, that I will add to this suggestion an illustration. I think it behooves every white man, and most especially every white man of consideration and influence, to exert that influence, be it little or much, for the fair, honest, and impartial execution of the laws, which secure protection to person, character and property. Whosoever is concerned—be he white or colored—be he rich or poor—you must carry this resolution with you to the jury-box, to the ballot-box, upon the seat of justice, in your municipal government, in your halls of legislation, and to your reconstruction convention when it shall meet. Equal justice should be a cardinal maxim in the policy of your State, not only because it is your interest to have a contented, prosperous and happy laboring population, but for higher reasons, because it is just and right. [Cheers.] If the colored people are ignorant and poor and prone to error, the evident lesson must commend itself to the heart and conscience of every good citizen, that the poor and ignorant should enjoy the protection of the rich, intelligent, and influential citizen. It is my belief, that when you have convinced the colored people by your laws and your administration of them, that you mean to do them justice, you will have solved the most difficult problem you will have to consider in your affairs. You will, at the same time, obviate nineteen out of twenty of the instances in which the exercise of military authority in your affairs becomes necessary. [Cheers.]

Mr. President and gentlemen, allow me to make a remark for the purpose of disabusing your minds of any erroneous impressions in regard to the sentiments of the people of the North towards the people of the South. I affirm as my real conviction, that the measures of Congress now to be executed here, under my direction, have not been adopted with any purpose of retaliation or hostility, nor to impede or impair the prosperity and welfare of the South. The people of the North do not desire to maintain a military government anywhere in this country. They regard that sort of government as repugnant to our institutions, and deprecate its prolongation anywhere as a misfortune. They do not desire, on the other hand, that the people enfranchised by their action shall be left altogether and wholly subject to the control of those by whom they have been heretofore held in servitude. Nor do they desire that this numerous race, by reason of any oppression or obstacles placed in the way of their well-being here, where they belong, shall be constrained to cut loose from their moorings here and emigrate to other and less congenial parts of the country, where they could find no suitable or adequate demand for their labor.

Other similar considerations have contributed their influence to the adoption of the measures now to be executed. It was apparent that the reorganization of the political institutions of the South would most speedily terminate the necessity for military occupation and military control. If the presence of troops was necessary to enforce the rights of the freedmen, the obvious remedy, in a republican form of government, was to give the enfranchised race, by means of the ballot, the power to enforce respect for their privileges as citizens. The advocates of universal suffrage are certainly friendly to the colored people; therefore it is certain they wish no misfortune to the communities in which the colored people must continue, for weal or woe, to dwell. Far from it; on the contrary, they believe that this addition to the representative population of the country, in addition to its military power and its means of production, must result, not only in great and substantial good to the nation at large, but that great and substantial blessings must follow to the people of the South. It is not so much my purpose to convince you that these measures will accomplish the beneficial results contemplated by Congress, as it is to commend them to your judgment and appreciation in their true purpose and object, according to my belief; and also, gentlemen, to assure you that it is in this sense, and with these hopes, that, so far as my duties are concerned, these acts of Congress will be executed. That the results to yourselves, to your posterity, and to your common country, may strengthen and endear the ties that must henceforth make our destiny inseparable, is my prayer and will be my earnest endeavor.

Gentlemen, I commend to you the brighter aspect of the future. There has never been an important experiment in public affairs, that has not suggested the gravest doubts and difficulties, and especially is this true in the matter of suffrage. Every large addition to the voting population of a country has excited the alarm of many who fancied themselves among the wisest of their generation. When universal suffrage was granted to the white race, it was predicted that it would involve the downfall of the republic. The naturalization laws, and the consequent encouragement given to emigration, have brought to our shores millions of Europeans of every race and clime. At the outset it was predicted that this foreign element would revolutionize our institutions and break down our experiment of free government. Great Britain, in 1832, by the reform bill, added a very large number to the voting population of that empire. Many British statesmen maintained then, that, as a necessary consequence, the decline and downfall of England was imminent, if not inevitable. Now we see the leaders of the Tory party originating and advocating a measure of enfranchisement, compared with which the Reform bill of 1832 was insignificant.

Gentlemen, I commend to you that in choosing your course you should not assume that every possible danger is inevitable. Take the risk. Do all you can to avert unhappy consequences; but cling and cleave to the brighter hope. Let us have faith in our good fortune. Let us believe that the beneficent result is practicable, and if it be true, as many of us have been admonished to believe by the events so unforeseen and inscrutable of the past few years,—if it be true that in this epoch of war, emancipation and enfranchisement, we are in the hands of a higher Providence, leading us to the fulfilment of a destiny we perhaps but dimly see, let us have faith that that same Providence, which has conducted us thus far through many hazards and difficulties of the experiment of republican freedom, will yet lead us safely through the dangers and difficulties that now seem to lie in our way. Let us have faith that in the future, as in the past, liberty and free men may vindicate themselves against the sneers and doubts of their enemies.

The history of great Commonwealths proves that in proportion to their freedom they gained in prosperity and power, as in culture and military renown. Power thus developed is conservative to nations and to civilization. It may be that for a brief period, while the new order of things is in process of adjustment, the productive capacity of the South will be impaired. This cannot last long. The Cotton crops raised by free labor last year, under greater disadvantages than are likely ever to occur again, sold for as much as the largest crop ever raised in the South. Before many years the most prosperous, opulent and contented agricultural population in the world will cultivate the territory lying between the Potomac and the Rio Grande.

In conclusion, let me borrow an illustration from the most brilliant of modern historians. "Ariosto tells a pretty story of a fairy who, by some mysterious law of her nature, was condemned to appear at certain seasons in the form of a foul and venomous snake. Those who injured her during the period of her disguise, were forever excluded from participation in the blessings she bestowed. But to those who, in spite of her loathsome aspect, pitied and protected her, she afterwards revealed herself in the beautiful and celestial form, which was natural to her, accompanied their steps, granted all their wishes, filled their homes with wealth, made them happy in love and victorious in war." Such a spirit is Liberty. At times she takes the form of a hateful reptile. She grovels, she hisses, she stings. But woe to those who in disgust shall venture to crush her! And happy are those who, having dared to receive her degraded, frightful shape, shall at length be rewarded by her in the time of her beauty and glory. [Great Cheers.]

At a late hour in the evening, Gen. Sickles, in response to a sentiment offered by Col. O. A. Andrews, President of the Chamber of Commerce, said:

"I trust that nothing more will be expected of me than to return my sincere thanks for this hearty manifestation of your kind regard and esteem. To do less than that would be to subject myself to the reproach of failing to appreciate a flattering compliment. It is a bad practice in civil and political affairs to make, for mine is the plain and simple duty to obey orders. But this I must venture to say, that I shall endeavor, at the close of my labors among you, to deserve an expression of your confidence similar to that with which you cheer me now in the commencement of my task."

THE EDITOR of the Chronicle characterizes the design attributed to certain Governors of the South of bringing the constitutionality of the recent military bills before the Supreme Court as a "new rebellion." This is another evidence of the criminal partisanship and reckless hardihood of Radicalism. Rebellion, is it, to test a law in the courts appointed for their adjudication? Rebellion to co-operate for the purpose of appealing to the supreme tribunal of the land? Rebellion to bring a suit, quietly and according to established time-honored forms, in order to inquire whether it is according to the Constitution to suspend the writ of habeas corpus, when there is "no war," and no "insurrection?" Rebellion to ask the Judges of the Supreme Court whether American citizens can be tried by a military commission; whether a trial by jury can be denied to any man living under the Constitution, and whether the bayonet can be exalted above the civil authority?—National Intelligencer.

The election news from the nutmeg State grates harshly on the ears of some of our friends.

OFFICE SEABOARD & ROANOKE R. R. CO.,
PORTSMOUTH, VA., March 23d, 1867.

IT has been understood by the officers in charge of transportation via the Seaboard and Weldon Route, that letters addressed to the Railroad Agent at Portsmouth, on the subject of freights, are unanswered, and that in consequence, causes of delay are not explained, and claims for losses and damage unsettled, and as the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad Company, who are the forwarding agents for the line, are satisfied that these causes of complaint are not due to their Agents, but to the inaccuracy of the mails, in order to test this subject, the Manager of the Seaboard Road requests that whenever persons have written to the undersigned Agent of the Seaboard Road, and after waiting a reasonable time for a reply, have not received it, that they will address him a letter enclosing a duplicate of the letter they had previously addressed to the agent. If this is complied with, and the Manager of the Seaboard Road receives the letter, he gives assurance that it shall be promptly investigated and replied to.

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophies, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence regarded or destroyed. Preference of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

THE SENTINEL.

TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 9, 1867.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

To Advertisers.—The public will find the Sentinel one of the best mediums of advertising in the State. Its circulation covers a larger area, perhaps, than any other paper.

New Advertisements.—We invite attention to the announcement of Messrs. Williams & Lambeth, who have purchased the Field and Fireside Book store. It will be seen that they contemplate carrying on the business with energy and on an extensive scale, and will doubtless commend themselves to the public patronage by their enterprise.

We invite attention to the card of Dr. Thomas H. Miles, of Halifax County, Virginia. We are assured by a highly respectable gentleman of this City, who is cognizant of Dr. Miles' treatment of pulmonary and thoracic diseases, that his practice has been attended with signal success. The following is from the Danville (Va) Times:

"We ask attention to the card of Dr. T. H. Miles, in this paper. We can vouch for the fact that Dr. M. has cured several cases of the most inveterate bronchial affection, and we have yet to hear of his treating a case unsuccessfully. We remember two ministers of the Gospel, who were supposed incurable, (Rev. Mr. Stowe, of S. C., and—we for get the other's name,) and whose voices could not be heard above a whisper, put themselves under his treatment, and in a short time were cured perfectly sound. They give him certificates."

L. W. Peck, Agent and Auctioneer, offers for sale the lot known as St. Petersburg, in this City. See advertisement.

Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institution.—We learn that the number of pupils in this State Institution, the present session, is 90—the largest number that has been entered during any one term. Their improvement, under the efficient auspices of Mr. Palmer, and his associates, is marked and most gratifying.

We are pleased to announce that the health of Col. W. H. Thomas, of Cherokee, is greatly improved. Dr. Samuel Love, his brother-in-law, and Mrs. Thomas, have been in this city for several days, and the Colonel will probably be able to return home with them.

Gen. R. E. Colston.—We had the pleasure, on yesterday afternoon, of a visit from this gallant ex-Confederate officer, now Superintendent of the Hillsboro Military Academy. The General is looking well, and is hopeful, we are pleased to say, of the future prospects of this excellent institution under his charge.

Missionary from China.—We learn that Rev. M. L. Wood, who has been a missionary to China from the N. C. Conference of the M. E. Church, South, arrived in this city on last evening, on his way home. Mr. W. is a native of Randolph, we believe, and has been in China some six years or more. His wife died some years ago and he buried her in that heathen land. He returns with his two children to be educated. Mr. W. also brings with him a converted Chinaman.

Demorest's Monthly Magazine.—The season may be late in presenting its smiling countenance, but not so with Demorest's Monthly. It is on hand for May, exuberant with novelties, brilliant ideas, fashions, in their multitudinous forms, illustrations, poetry, music, braid patterns, dress patterns, architecture, and a host of other valuable matter, useful and indispensable to every household. So says the Petersburg Index, and we endorse its commendation. Price $3 per annum.

The Grand Presentation Concert.—We learn that Mr. Bragg, the agent in this city, has sold about 150 tickets in the Grand Presentation Concert, in aid of the Southern Orphans' Relief Association, which is to come off in Baltimore, on the 30th. inst.—In Warrenton, we understand, upwards of 800 have been disposed of.

Religious Notice.—The Rev. J. H. Smith has returned to this city and will preach in the Presbyterian Church to-night and for several nights to come. Mr. Smith is a preacher of great power and impressiveness, and his efforts in this city have been attended with the most happy results. A profound feeling has been excited in the congregation, and there have been a number of additions to the church.

For interesting reading matter see first and fourth pages.

The Hollywood Memorial Association.—Miss Nannie Daves, of Newbern, writes to the Commercial of that city:

"An article has been recently published in the Sentinel, over the signature of S. J. A., which states that the only contribution from North Carolina to the Hollywood Bazaar had been received from Wilmington. This article was evidently penned by some person, who was either ignorant of the facts, or was disposed to do injustice to our noble State. While we cheerfully accord to our sister city all praise for her generous contribution to the holy cause, we must, in justice to ourselves, state the facts, which are as follows: I had the honor, as Agent of the Hollywood Memorial Bazaar Association for this section of North Carolina, to forward some months ago, to the President of that Association in Richmond, the first contribution from the State, which amounted to the sum of two hundred and twelve dollars, ($212) nearly all of which was furnished by the noble and patriotic people of our own generous city. In addition to this, I have disposed of sixty-five tickets, which will add as many dollars to the sum already sent."

Our correspondent is a North Carolina lady, temporarily in Richmond, who was, of course, unapprised of the fact mentioned by Miss Daves. She was actuated by the same patriotic spirit that has so nobly signalized her sex in the State; the desire and the ambition that North Carolina should be behind none of her sisters in the work of guarding the ashes and the memories of our heroic dead. We gladly bear testimony to the liberality of Newbern and especially to the efforts of Miss Daves in this good work.—We were not oblivious of this, but it did not occur to us when we published the note of Miss S. J. A., or we should have made the correction ourselves.

Information Wanted.—The remains of Col. W. B. Colbert, of the 40th Mississippi Regiment, are supposed by his relatives to be buried in Raleigh; but as no such name appears on the list of the Confederate Dead, and as all inquiries, so far, having proved fruitless, it is conjectured that he might have been removed to the Western part of the State, about the time of the occupation of the City by Gen. Sherman. Any person who can give any information respecting him, after the battle of Bentonville, will please communicate with Miss S. A. Partridge, Raleigh, N. C.

Another monster whale, ninety-two feet long, was captured off Beaufort Harbor, on Saturday last. It is expected that one hundred barrels of oil will be the result of this exploit.

Attention.—We are requested by J. R. Harrison, Esq., one of the U. S. Revenue Assessors for Wake County, to call the attention of merchants, and others engaged in business, to the fact that those who fail, by the first of May next, to obtain a license, will be promptly dealt with according to law.—His instructions are positive in the matter. We presume that Mr. Bromell, the other Assessor, would be glad that those in his district would also come forward promptly.

The Cincinnati Gazette, a violent Radical paper, is much pleased with the late Holdenite meeting in this City. It says that all "personal, social and political prejudices were banished, and all united in a sincere endeavor to inaugurate just and grand measures for the reorganization of a regenerated State!"

General Grant and General Sheridan Correspond.—Gen. Sheridan writes that General Griffin, of Texas, recommends the removal of Governor Throckmorton of that State; that he (Sheridan) agrees with Griffin. Sheridan also thinks he will have to remove the Governor of Louisiana. He further says he will commence the work of registration as soon as he receives a certified copy of the law; that he (Sheridan) feels himself equal to the task imposed upon him by the law, and will perform his work with credit to the military. Gen. Sheridan concludes by saying: "I shall make but few removals."

General Grant replies that it would not be proper to remove Governors; that the subject is now under consideration, and it is not believed that military commanders have the power, and that removals can only be made by act of Congress or by trial under the sixth section of the law.

Governor Wise and Senator Wilson.—I have just learned that an interview took place between Governor Wise and Senator Wilson, by request of the latter. It is represented as being very agreeable and satisfactory. Wilson stated that compliance with the terms of the reconstruction bill would inevitably insure the admission of Southern representatives to Congress without any further conditions. He said that this bill was the ultimatum of the Radicals.—Richmond letter in New York World.

The Democratic State Committee of Connecticut has issued a circular of congratulation, claiming to have won their recent great victory on these issues:

"In favor of representation in Congress by every State. Immediate union on the basis of the Constitution. No usurpation of undelegated powers by Congress. No military despotism in this Republic. No Congressional force bills to establish negro suffrage."

The Oberlin News says:

It is ungenerous to criticise our fashionable young ladies for walking on tip-toe as they do now-a-days. They can't help it.—The waterfalls on the top of their heads draw up the back hair so tightly that they can't put their heels down squarely without great pain.

The Richmond Whig states that during the past week numerous Northern capitalists of wealth and high character have been in that city, and we are gratified to ascertain that the object of their visit South is to examine lands with a view to investments.

Mayor Latham, of Alexandria, publishes an earnest appeal to the citizens of that place to contribute to the relief of the destitute in the South, and has appointed a committee of four gentlemen in each ward to solicit donations for that purpose.

The Richmond Whig has reason to know that General Schofield, as soon as the extent of the destitution of the families of the unfortunate victims of the Clover Hill explosion is ascertained, will make some provision for their wants.

A Texas editor charges a brother of the quill with stealing other people's editorials, and admonishes him to "render unto scissors the things that are scissors."

Sheridan.—Jubal Early in his book says that Sheridan ought to have, instead of promotion, been cashiered for simply winning the battle of Opequon.

This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. GRAND CHARITABLE

PRESENTATION CONCERT,

IN AID OF THE Southern Orphan Association.

Incorporated by the Legislature of Virginia, January 30, 1867.

TO BE GIVEN AT THE

MARYLAND INSTITUTE

BALTIMORE,

APRIL 30th. 1867

THE PROFITS OF THIS CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN TO THE SOUTHERN ORPHANS' ASSOCIATION, TO THE SUBJOINED ADDRESS, FROM THE OFFICERS OF WHICH, WE CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC:

"We, the Officers of the Southern Orphans' Association, for the maintenance and education of the destitute orphans of deceased Southern soldiers and sailors, earnestly solicit the sympathy and co-operation in our

Grand Presentation Concert,

Of all who desire to see the

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

enabled to receive and care for all the needy ones who seek its shelter and protection.

Thanking our friends for their past contributions and assistance, we again appeal to them to help us in a more extensive enterprise. It is the design of this Association to erect a for the orphans of the South, both male and female, on an extensive scale, in the city of Richmond, Virginia. As an inducement to have the building located there, the Common Council of that city have guaranteed a sufficient lot of land, in an elevated and healthful location, and will increase the quantity of land if needed.

It is with a confident hope in a favorable response to this appeal to a public which has never yet failed to sustain a charitable institution, that we have entered into an arrangement with Messrs. L. T. Palmer & Co., No. 13 Holliday street, Baltimore, to organize a Grand Musical Presentation Concert for its benefit, and earnestly solicit the kindly aid and patronage of the public to ensure its success.

(Signed)

Mrs. J. L. Hammond, President.
Mrs. Dr. J. B. Bean, Vice President.
Mrs. E. A. F. Mears, Treasurer.
Mrs. Dr. A. G. Kimberly, Cor. Secretary.
Mr. J. H. Schiebs, Recording Secretary.
Dr. A. G. Kimberly, Financial Secretary.
H. C. Dallam, Esq., Counsellor.

Baltimore, Feb. —, 1867.

TRUSTEES.

Mrs. E. A. F. Mears, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. J. H. Schiebs, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. W. S. Bostock, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. A. Hawkins, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. Dr. A. G. Kimberly, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. Chas. McCubbin, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. Hon. Jas. Lyons, Richmond, Va.
Mrs. Jas. Thomas, Richmond, Va.
Mrs. Thos. Branch, Richmond, Va.

It may seem unnecessary to add a single word to the above address, but call upon the Institution have been so numerous and pressing, and the struggle through which it is now passing to widen the circle of its charities is of such an arduous nature, that the management cannot too strongly urge upon the

HUMANE AND PATHETIC

everywhere, an active participation in this additional attempt to alleviate the sad condition of great numbers of helpless children, rendered thus by the terrible war through which we have passed. And, assuredly, whatever may have been the relative political views of ladies and gentlemen heretofore, all must agree that the children referred to, could not, by any possibility, have had any agency in bringing about their present

DEPLORABLE AND DESTITUTE CONDITION, and are suitable objects for the charity of all persons of whatever shade of political opinion. The

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

which they now more particularly seek to establish and endow, will be of incalculable benefit by providing not only food and raiment for these helpless ones, but likewise solid and thorough education, thus qualifying them for Future Usefulness to Society at Large.

In order that this appeal may be effectual in enlisting the active interest and co-operation of all classes of persons everywhere, we have concluded to issue for the Grand Presentation Musical Concert,

FERTILIZERS

FOR SPRING CROPS.

We beg to inform the trade and planters of North Carolina and Virginia, that we are prepared to furnish them with the most approved FERTILIZERS, on the most accommodating terms. We will have a stock of genuine PERUVIAN GUANO, purchased direct from the Agent of the Peruvian Government.

We have now in store, for immediate delivery, 225 tons BRADLEY'S SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME, which won for itself such an enviable reputation in the Cotton and Tobacco counties of North Carolina and Virginia, last season, proving itself equal, and in many important respects, superior to the Peruvian Guano. We give an analysis of it as ascertained by Dr. Hayes, one of the most eminent Chemists in the country:

Results of Analyses Made on Bradley's Patent Super-Phosphate of Lime, as now sold by Wm. L. Bradley.

100 Parts Consist of
Moisture	5.30
Prepared animal matter, salts of Ammonia, fatty substance and Humus	36.50
Bone Phosphates of Lime, Magnesia and Iron	36.30
(Soluble Phosphates of do. 16 9-10.)
Sulphate of Lime	14.80
Salts	20
Insoluble	2.90
	99.90

The animal matter afforded 4 9-10 parts of Ammonia when it was decomposed, and, as will be seen, nearly one-half of the Bone Phosphate is soluble.

After many analyses of your Super-Phosphate of Lime, made during the last few months, I have found your standard of quality full equal to that of any you have ever sold in former years; and I am satisfied that you include the correct principles in the manufacture. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

SQUANDERED LIVES.

BY BAYARD TAYLOR.

The fisherman wades in the surges;
The sailor sails over the seas;
The soldier steps bravely to battle;
The woodman lays axe to the trees.

They are each of the forces of the heroes,
The manhood attempted in strife;
Strong hands, that go lightly to labor,
True hearts that take comfort in life.

In each is the seed to replenish
The world with the vigor it needs—
The source of honest affections,
The impulse to generous deeds.

But the shark drinks the blood of the fisher;
The sailor is dropped in the sea;
The soldier lies cold by his cannon,
The woodman is crushed by his tree.

Each prodigal life that is wasted
In sorry achievements ensues,
But heightens the days of the coward,
And strengthens the crafty and mean.

The blood of the noblest is lavished
That the selfish a profit may find;
God sees the lives that are squandered,
And we to his Wisdom are blind.

BODILY STRENGTH.

Every grain of bodily power, ability of motion, or effort, is derived from the food we eat; stimulants, spirits and mental excitement call out that power in unnatural quantities, but the power itself is derived from the food, through the agency, the medium of the nerves and muscles. The food does three things before power is produced. It warms, it builds up, it repairs; and ability to work is the result. This process of repair and building may be called nourishing. In general, the elements of all power proper for animal life contain both warmth and nourishment, such as meat and bread; but fruits impart no warmth; while oils, sugar and starch contain little else than the articles of warmth.

The first necessity for infants is warmth; the milk on which they feed contains both oil and a sugar. They would die without sweets. The body is warmed by process of combustion, a burning up of the carbon of the system. Sugars, oils and starches are almost entirely carbon. This burning of carbon is kindled and carried on by means of the air which is breathed into the lungs.

The more we exercise, the faster or deeper we breathe, and the more air we take into the lungs; hence, exercise is said "to warm us up." The product of combustion is carbonic acid, which is exhaled from the lungs. The amount of this acid exhaled during sleep is represented by nineteen; while laying down awake, twenty-three; while walking at a rate of two miles per hour, seventy-three; three miles per hour, one hundred and seventy-five.

Now, as the quantity of carbonic acid gas passing out of the system represents the amount of impurities carried out from it, it is seen at once the powerful agency which exercise has in rendering the blood pure, and keeping it so; for this carbonic acid is taken out of the blood in the lungs by the process of breathing.

When sitting in a room, this carbonic acid gas which comes from the lungs hovers around the head and face to some extent, and is, with all its impurities, rebreathed; but when working, riding or walking out of doors, it is carried away by the wind; hence, every breath of out-door air is a pure breath; hence, too, the great superiority of out-door exercise, as a means of health, above indoor quiet.

Different kinds of food have various proportions of the elements of power; that is, we can work longer on a pound of bread than on a pound of cabbage.

Scientific men have arrived at the following proportions. The table should be read thus: One pound of cabbage gives two degrees of strength. Milk, 2; Cabbage, 9; Carrots, 2 1-2; White of Egg, 2 1-2; Apples, 3; Butter, 3 1-2; Potatoes, 5; Lean Beef, 6; Mackerel, 7 1-2; Hard-boiled Egg, 10; Bread, 12; Isinglass, 17; Rice, 17 1-2; Oatmeal, 18; Flour, 18; Lump Sugar, 18; Cheshire Cheese, 19; Arrowroot, 19; Cocoa Nibs, 39; Fat Beef, 41; Cod Liver Oil, 41.—Hall's Health Tract.

"Who's there?" said Robinson, one cold winter night, disturbed in his repose by some one knocking at the street door.

"A friend," was the answer.

"What do you want?"

"Want to stay here all night."

"Queer taste of yours, ain't it? But stay, by all means," was the benevolent reply.

"Why do you not admire my daughter?" said a proud mother to a gentleman. "Because," he replied, "I am no judge of paintings." "But, surely," replied the lady, not in the least disconcerted by this reflection, "you never saw an angel that was not painted."

A clergyman went into one of our primary schools a few days ago, says the Charlestown Advertiser, and after hearing the pupils read, spell, etc., thought he would have a chapter of catechism. After sundry questions and satisfactory replies, he said, "Who is the father of lies?" A six-year older promptly replied "God." "Why do you think God is the father of lies?" Six-year older replied as promptly as before: "Because he is the father of us all." The teacher hid her face and her smiles behind a primer, while the reverend gentleman was for a moment struck dumb with dismay by such logic. Recovering, however, he forthwith explained.

It is stated by some wiseacre that the heart of a man weighs about nine ounces, that of a woman about eight. As the age increases, a man's heart grows heavier, and the woman's lighter—some girls lose theirs at sixteen.

Courting is an irregular active transitive verb, indicative mood, present tense, third person, singular number, and agrees with all the girls—don't it?

A young gentleman inquired of a demoiselle the other day, "Whether or not she admired moustachios?" "O!" replied the charmer, with an arch look, "I invariably set my face against them."

Avon Jr.—An old author quaintly remarks: "Avoid argument with the ladies. In spinning yarns among silks and satins, a man is sure to be worsted and twisted.—And when a man is worted and twisted, he may consider himself wound up."

It is said that a sexton of a fashionable church in New York has sold, during the past season, two bushels of "bugle trimming," gathered up from the pews and aisles.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such convention shall have submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,
President of the Senate pro tem.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval departments of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

The Fall Session of this Institution closed 23rd day of December. The Spring Session opened the 1st Wednesday in January, and will continue 20 weeks.

The success of this school has been without a parallel. A new building has just been completed, by which a large additional number can be accommodated. We are determined to make our pupils as comfortable as they can be made anywhere, and to afford them all the advantage for a thorough and extensive education, that can be found at any First class Female College, North or South.

The location is a most delightful one. The Mineral Water is too well known to the whole country to need a remark. Even invalid young ladies may secure a thorough education, and at the same time the restoration of their health. Reference is made to every intelligent Physician in the State, as well as to the hundreds who have found relief here.

The young ladies all worship in the College Chapel, and hence no extra clothing is required.—In the single item of dress parents can save 25 per cent. of the entire expense incurred by sending to Boarding Schools located in cities or villages.—This Institution is certainly one of the cheapest and most easy of access in the Southern States.—Besides, it offers the most superior advantages in every respect.
